'VARSITY CLUB

Banquet at Hawaiian Hotel.

Noted Guests and Good Speeches—New Members Admitted.

The second semi-annual meeting and banquet of the University Club of Hawaii was held Tuesday evening at the Hawaiian Hotel. Although there was no more evidence of college and university hilarity than at the previous gathering, the large attendance and general interest taken by the members, showed plainly that the club is an organization bound to increase and prosper.

At the business meeting held early in the evening the following were admitted to membership: J. M. Monsarratt, L. L. B. '78 Harvard, Phillip L. Weaver Ph. B. '91 University of California, Harold M. Sewall A. B., L. L. B. Harvard, Edwin Farmer A. B. '90, University of Nebraska, Edgar Wood, B. S. '90, Mt. Allison, A. B. '95, Cornell, George P. Andrews, M. D. College Physicians and Surgeons, Wm. Haywood L. L. M. Columbia University, George R. Carter B. A. '88, Yale, J. S. Emerson, B. S. Mass. Institute of Technology.

About 7:30 the members adjourned to the lanai where the banquet was spread. A few college flags adorned the walls, also the flags of Hawaii and the United States which with the colored lights and tastefully decorated tables gave a very pretty effect. Toastmaster D. P. Birnie sat at the head of the table with President Dole at his right. The other guests were American Minister Sewall, Japanese Minister Shimamura, U. S. Consul General Haywood, Mr. Salmon recently from Yale, and Prof. Smith of Stanford University. The members present were: E. P. Dole, J. T. Crawley, Edwin Farmer, Edgar Wood, President Hosmer, Dr. N. B. Emerson, Prof. A. B. Ingalls, J. Q. Wood, Lyle Dickey, E. A. Mott-Smith, G. R. Carter, S. M. Ballou, W. R. Farrington, Prof. Colsten, F. S. Dodge, Judge Frear, W. E. Rowell, J. S. Emerson, O. P. Emerson, C. S. Dickey, C. H. Kluegel, Dr. S. E. Bishop, Rev. C. M. Hyde, A. V. Gear, George A. Davis, Dr. A. B. Lyons.

The menu prepared by Manager Lucas' new chef was a most excellent one and well served. At the opening of the post prandial exercises Mr. Birnie called upon President Dole who was greeted with rounds of applause. Mr. Dole did not make an elaborate address, but did his best to stir up a little old-time college enthusiasm among the graduates. He spoke pleasantly of his college days, and stated that although he was not a graduate, the honorary degree of L. L. D. had recently been conferred upon him by Williams College. This called forth the principal outburst of college enthusiasm of the meeting.

Minister Sewall made an interesting five minute speech in which he brought out the broad educational principles of Harvard University, an institution often maligned for its proximity to Boston, which nevertheless sent its representatives to all parts of the world, where their influence for intellectual progress was always felt. Mr. Sewall suggested that at the next banquet the educational principle be recognized. While in college he had always believed in the annexation principle and hoped the University Club of Hawaii would take it up at future meetings. He closed with a glowing tribute to President Dole congratulating him upon the honor conferred upon him. "This meritorious action of his alma mater expresses the esteem in which we all hold him in our hearts."

Prof. Smith of Stanford spoke of the work of that institution. It had deposited many of the king and queen of old educational custom. U. S. Consul Haywood made a very short but happy speech.
Mr. Salmon of Yale '94, who is on his way to take up Y. M. C. A. work in Australia held the interested attention of his hearers in outlining the religious work in colleges. He brought to the gathering much of the college enthusiasm, and spoke especially of the line of educational work at Yale. The university was seeking to develop the four square man—the intellectual, physical, social and moral man. He paid high compliment to the character of the young men which Hawaii has sent to Yale.

Dr. A. B. Lyons made the closing address of the evening after which Secretary Crawley reported upon the progress of the club. Seven months ago the club was started with 40 members and now has 53, representing 26 colleges. Eighteen institutions were represented at the banquet.

Kau Notes.

The following notes were received from Kau on the Mauna Loa Tuesday: "There was a rumor all over the island of Hawaii that Chester A. Doyle had met with an untimely death. His many friends were gratified to learn by the last Kinu that there is no foundation to the rumor."

"Rev. J. Kinney of Naalehu is circulating a subscription list for the purpose of raising funds to build a church. He is meeting with much success."

"E. B. Hendry, who arrived by the Mauna Loa, is making a short visit in the Kau district."

"Kau has been favored with several fine showers recently. There is an abundance of rain in the mountains. The Ke Au Hou arrived in Honolulu on Wednesday evening with freight and left again Thursday night. She took 4,100 bags of Hutchinson Sugar Plantation Company's sugar. The Mauna Loa received 8,300 bags from Punaluu and 2,680 from Honaupou.

"A star was seen by the residents of Kau about mid-day, Friday. It was high in the heavens and toward the west."

"On Thursday morning, a dense volume of black smoke was seen coming from Mauna Loa, rising majestically toward the heavens. It was an awe inspiring and get grand to the many Kau residents who witnessed it. On Friday, Saturday and Sunday it continued to send forth this black volume. This sight was grandest when the Mauna Loa hoisted anchor for departure to Honolulu, Monday morning."

"A number of our British residents leave by this Mauna Loa to attend the Queen's celebration in Honolulu. An ex-Governor of Malta and his valet are among the number."

U. S. S. MOANA.

Arrival in Port of the New Palatial Liner.

The U. S. S. Moana, 4,000 tons, Captain M. Carey, commander, arrived in port and hauled alongside the Oceanic wharf between 11 and 12 yesterday, while the boat races were in progress. Following is the report kindly furnished by Purser Bendall:

The Moana, taking the Monowai's place, is from Sydney via Auckland and Apia. She left Sydney at 5 p. m. on the 7th inst., and arrived in Auckland on the 11th at noon. Left again next day at 2:20 p. m. and arrived in Apia on the 16th at 1 p. m. Made a stay of 6 hours and arrived in Honolulu as above. Had fine weather all the way. The Moana was to have sailed for San Francisco at 7 o'clock last evening but in order to accommodate the various shippers of fruit, she was detained an hour.

The Moana is a fine boat and came into port in great shape. Her time of arrival is down for today, but as will be seen, she came in a day beforehand. The Moana is owned in the Union Steamship Line, an enterprising company with 66,549 tons of shipping; this being divided up among 56 vessels.

The new vessel, just fresh from the builder's yards on the Clyde, is the outcome of the recent visit to England of Mr. James Mills, the managing director of the company. She has been specially built to take the place of the Monowai on the A and A route. She is beautifully modelled with towering decks and pole masts.

The Moana is a 17-knot boat, but on the run out she traveled at reduced speed, utilizing three-fifths of her power, or in other words, 3,000 h.p. out of 5,260 h.p. The steaming time from Greenock to Sydney was 40 days 14 hours, and the time overall 41 days. The total distance covered was 12,626 miles, daily average 311.7 knots, and hourly 13.5. From the Cape to Sydney the time was 19 days 8 hours 19 minutes, the distance traversed being 6,261 knots, daily average 328.8 knots, and hourly 13.5. The coal consumption it should be mentioned was 56½ tons per day.

She is 2,914 tons gross and consequently the largest steamer flying the Union Company's flag. Her net register is 3,332 tons. In length she measures 350ft. between perpendiculars, her beam moulded is 44ft., and depth 34ft. The depth to the upper deck is 32.65 ft.

The Moana is a palatial liner with every accommodation conceivable. One of the features is a large recess at the after end of the saloon, specially adapted for use as a stage for amateur theatricals. She has accommodations for 189 first class and 116 second class passengers.

The Moana will run regularly on the Monowai route. W. G. Irwin & Co. are the Honolulu agents.

The Italian bark, Giuseppe, A. Felicaluzor master, arrived in port at 8 a. m. yesterday, 15 days from San Francisco from which port she cleared on June 8. The Giuseppe comes in ballast to W. G. Irwin & Co. and will load sugar.

The electric light at Fort and Queen streets was out at 1:30 this morning.

Register, if you want to vote.
